The Situation.

The first important engagement be tween the American and Spanish forces occurred last Saturday before Manila, off the Phillippine Islands. It was a decisive victory for the American ships under command of Commodore Dewey. The Spanish fleet was completely annihilated, and the city of Manila has passed into the control of the American officers. It is said the victory is the greatest in the history of naval warfare.

The result of the battle will doubtless haston the end of the war. Spain will probably make one more desperate effort to regain her lost ground. But no more fighting will occur in the Pacific. The scene of battle will now be changed to Cuban waters. The Spanish Government is still determined to pursue the conflict to the bitter end, however unwise such a course may be. Her war ships are to be brought together in a combined assault on the Atlantic squadron, under command of Admiral Sampson, before Havana. Should she meet with such another defeat as that of the Phillippines, the war will practically be brought to a close. In this event but little will be left for the regular army to do. Several thousand soldiers are in readiness to sail for Cuba at a moment's notice. They will be landed on Cuban soil and join Gomez in taking Havana. The blows will be dealt by Uncle Sam hard and fast until the freedom of Cuba is accomplished. The American navy has cov-ored itself with glory and the sailor boys have done themselves proud. It is highly probable they will win the laurels and be crowned the victors before the army boys get a chance to win their spurs.

In the appointment of Gen. Fitz Lee as Major General President McKinley made a most excellent choice, and one that will give general satisfaction. The honor is one well deserved, one really merited by the General himself while faithfully serving the United States as Consul General in Cuba, from which position he has just returned upon the eve of war with Spain. It is said that on General Lee's departure from Cuba that General Blanco refused to see him or bid him a "good by." Things have so shaped themselves that General Blanco may be compelled to meet General Lee Lee to give him a place on his staff, and it is probable that General Lee will grant the request. Lee and Grant in the son of grandson fighting side by against a common enemy. Verily time makes wonderful changes.

The County Democratic Convention, which met in the Court House on the 2d instant, was a very small one. Ten clubs were represented, but of these several were represented by two or three men only, and they were appointed by meetings of the clubs at which very few members attended. At Walladie for members attended. At Walhalla fewer members attended. At Walhalla fewer members attended the club meeting than there were delegates appointed, and at the club meetings at other places we are informed the number attending was correspondingly small. Not more than twenty-five or thirty delegates were in attendance at the convention and very little interest and no enthusiasm manifested. This lack of interest may be explained in more ways than one. It may have been caused by the fact that the convention was held just at this time when the farmers are very busy in their crops. Whatever may have been their crops. Whatever may have been the cause the convention was the smallest that we have ever seen assembled here.

KEOWEE COURIER. The Greatest Naval Victory in History.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.—The official advices are that Devey's victory at Manilla is the greatest in naval history. The officials have also received information that the governor general of the Phillippines has sent a flag of truce to Commodore Dewey. It is understood that the British consul carried the proposition which was to surrender Manilla without a bombardment.

There is no official information as to whether the offer to surrender was conditional or whether it has been accepted. It is reported in Washington, however, that the bombardment of Manilla has already begun This report is from Hong Kong and is not official. There is no official information as to the number of Spaniards killed. The Spanish claim that only 400 were killed. The correct number will probably be largely in excess of this. There is no official information as to the damage to the American fleet and it is not believed that Dowey sustained any serious damage.

ADMITTED NOW. MADRID, May 2.—Official advices from Manilla to-day removed the last hope of the Spaniards, and it is now admitted on all sides that the Spanish fleet has been completely destroyed and it is only a question of hours as to when Americans will completely occupy Manilla. All Spain is completely demoralized.

ANNIHILATED.

LONDON, May 2 .-- The British governor of the straits settlement cables that the American fleet has "annihilated" the Spanish fleet in a two hours' engage-

LONDON, May 2.—The atternoon newspapers to-day comment at length upon the victory of the United States fleet at Manilla. The Pall Mall Gazette says: The earlier Spanish stories left no shadow of doubt that the Spanish fleet had been, to put it roundly, smashed, and the later information this morning places it even beyond possibility of a Spanish denial." The newspapers all discuss the ultimate fate of the Phillippine islands as a question in which the European powers are vitally interested, and they agree in saying that another element of discord has been introduced into the far east-

SPANISH INDIGNATION. MADKID, May 2.-A dispatch to The Liberal from Manilla says Admiral Montejo, the Spanish commander, acknowledges that the Spanish fleet has been completely destroyed.

Even the cabinet ministers admit that the naval battle off Cavite ended in the utter routing of the Spanish deet. The engagement began Sunday morning at 6.30 o'clock and the last shot was fired at 11.30 o'clock. It is generally admitted in Madrid that not a ship of the Spanish fleet at the Phillippines is now of service. It is semi-officially stated that the Reina Maria Christina and the Castilla were totally burned and one vessel was purposely sunk and the rest of the fleet badly damaged. The Spanish populace is wild with indignation and an outbreak is momen tarily expected. Officials are giving it out in order to pacify the public that the "American fleet is believed to be much damaged;" it is known, however, that there is nothing to substantiate this statement. There is not a tangible statement from Manilla to day that leads the Spaniards to hope that the Americans are in any way hurt.

A hurried cabinet meeting was held this morning. At the termination of the cabinet council just held the minister of marine, Admiral Bermejo, declined to furnish any further information for publication. He said, however, that the first account given out by the governor general of the Phillippine islands was completely borne out by later dispatches, adding that the last shot was fired at 11.30. The authorities here have adopted the most extreme military precautions to check the increasing public indignation, Martial law will be proclaimed if the government is provoked over hostile demonstrations in the street. The feeling of discontent prevails everywhere. The military feel equally with the civil elements the effects of the disaster, in which, according to the announcement, "our inferior war craft, although they fought pluckily, perished through lack of foresight in responsible quarters."

It is even stated semi-officially that Commodore Dewey, of the American fleet, landed in Manilla after the engagement and had a conference with the British consul, E. P. Rawson-Walker.

Sensational debates are expected in the Spanish Senate and Chamber to-day and to-morrow. MANILLA BLOCKADED.

Further advices from Manilla to The Liberal this afternoon say the United States fleet has taken up a position in front of Manilla and has established a blockade of the port.

The population of Manilla, it is officially admitted, is fleeing from the city. A bombardment of the city is expected to take place to-day. The movement on Manilla began immediately after the naval engagement,

The newspapers to-day are sore and bitter, but express a determination to avenge the defeat of the Spanish fleet. The conduct of the Spanish admiral in sinking the remnant of his fleet in order to prevent its capture is highly extolled by the press. The Imparcial advises the government to arm all the available shipping and convert the vessels into an auxiliary fleet for the purpose of capturing and destroying American merchant vessels. MADRID, May 2.—The cabinet held a stormy session this afternoon. Riots on account of the indignation of the population are feared. It is believed that the question of surrendering Cuba was before the cabinet,

It is not believed that the war will continue longer than the capture of Spain to Make One Supreme Effort.

LONDON, May 3.—It is announced in a special dispatch from Madrid that there is no idea of surrender there, either in ministerial circles or among the populace. On the contrary, it is added the war is to be pursued with greater vigor. This special dispatch adds that it is even stated at Madrid by those who are responsible for the naval movements that it has been determined to avoid isolated combats on unequal terms and with a superior enemy and that they now intend to throw the whole united naval strength of Spain into one supreme effort to crush the American squadron in Cuban waters. Continuing, the special says: "Until this engagement is fought no proposal for intervention will be listened to."

A dispatch from Cadiz says that the second Spanis!: squadron, consisting of the warships Pelayo, Alfonso XIII and Victoria, and a number of smaller ships, has nearly completed its preparations for active service. It is reported, however, that great difficulty is experienced in fitting out the ships owing to the lack of money.

A special dispatch from Brussels, received in London, says high Spanish diplomats there declare that Spain is practically in a state of revolution. The end of the regency has begun,

No American Officers Killed.

Washington, May 3.—A report has been received here, sent to the home office in London by the British consul in Hampton spoke and caused the wildest Manilla just prior to the cutting of the cable, to the effect that not a single American officer lost his life in the battle

Will Occupy Manilla.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The cabinet meeting to-day resulted in a decision to await a report from Commodora Dewey and then to send him the number of troops he deems necessary to enforce our control of the Phillippines. The whole pose, as it is thoroughly ventilated and will be cool.

The troops began arriving in Columbia on Tuesday afternoon, and the full quota are now there. As soon as the surgeons arrive the mustering in will begin.

They will examine the troops and all forces of the Phillippines are control of the Phillippines. The whole season was consumed in a general discussion of past events. The administration has practically decided to occupy the Phillippines with a strong military of the property of the force as soon as possible after the Com-modore's report, which is expected tomorrow, has been received

Lee Appointed a Major General.

The British Lion Roars.

Washington, May 3.—Expecting that the Senate would be in session to-day, the War Department officials had prea most serious nature is threatening Brit-ish interests at Santiago de Cuba. The tions were to be sent in as major generals ish interests at Santiago de Cuba. The British third class cruiser Fearl is now there and within 24 hours the British third class Pallas and the British sloop Alert will join her.

The Alert, it now appears, was accompanded to Santiago de Cuba by the Pearl and the Alert was sent back with dispatches regarded by the British Consul patches regarded by the British Stoppe Regards and brigadier generals. The list included the warning while there is yet time; clear up your blood by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It rouses every organ into natural action, purifies the brigade at New Orleans, and J. F. Wade, commanding the regiments at Tampa, both of whom are now brigadier generals.

A Stirring Day in the Capital of the Matanzas Bembarded-The Spanish

When you see the countryman fres rom between the plough handles, coatess, wearing only it faded flannel shirt apon his body, marching in ranks alongside the gallant young mar from the city who has for the time deserted his law office, each bearing a rifle, marching side by side in ranks to answer to the call of his country for volunteers to de-fend the flag of the nation, there is no fend the flag of the nation, there is no longer room for doubt that old South Carolina would come to the front as she has ever done when the sound to arms was made. Such was the picture presented on the principal streets of the main thoroughfare of the capital city of the Palmetto State yesterday and the picture made men who saw it fell proud that they were South Carolinians.

At last the troops of this State have been put on the march and if all are to be of the kind that came yesterday, no one need fear for an instant that the glory of the flag that bears the palmetto emblem will be tarnished in the slightest degree when the war is ever and the Foots had been sent to do duty in Matanzas harbor and had been fired on by the orts. The real object of sending the Foote into the harbor was to discover the location of the batteries. Some of the batteries lie low and are difficult to see. The Foote was fired on a great many times, and accomplished her mission without sustaining any injury.

During Wednesday the batteries fired a number of shots at Sampson's fleet, and although no harm was done, Captain Sampson saw that he would have to either move ft ther away or silence the offending guns. He did not like the idea of moving away, and the other alternative was chosen.
